Boiling Springs Savings Bank Board of Directors and Senior Management team members volunteer on a "Bankers Build" with Habitat Bergen

ORADELL, NJ, September 10, 2015 – The President & CEO of Boiling Springs Savings Bank (BSSB), along with his Board members and Senior Management team joined forces to paint and install flooring with Habitat for Humanity of Bergen County (Habitat Bergen) in Little Ferry and Moonachie as part of the New Jersey Bankers Association's BSSB kicked off the "Bankers Build" program when they volunteered on Habitat Bergen's job site on June 9th. It is fitting that their board members and senior management team decided to join the affiliate once again, putting their belief as community partners into action. The program, which began in the summer, will continue into the fall as various banks associated with NJBankers volunteer on Habitat Bergen's job sites.

"Boiling Springs is proud to have partnered with Habitat Bergen and NJBankers. We take great pride in volunteering and strive to support our communities by making a positive impact on the organizations and neighborhoods in which we serve," said Robert E. Stillwell, Boiling Springs Savings Bank President and CEO.

"New Jersey bankers have a strong commitment to the communities they serve and "Bankers Build" is just one more way to support their neighbors. With so much still to do, our members are rolling up their sleeves and volunteering their services to help rebuild after the damage incurred by Superstorm Sandy," said John E. McWeeny, Jr., NJBankers President and CEO. "In addition, members will make a contribution of $1,000 for each bank's team to help purchase construction materials."

"It is thanks to the recommendation BSSB made to NJBankers to join forces with Habitat Bergen that this alliance was formed. This action alone defines the true meaning of partnership," said Jacey Raimondo, Habitat Bergen Executive Director. "Our history together spans five years during which time we have been fortunate enough to participate in BSSB's renowned Community Alliance Program. Both organizations have local roots and are one of the rare constants serving the Bergen County community. Witnessing their teamwork in action makes it easy to see why they were voted as one of the top 50 banks to work for in 2015 and we are proud to call them our partner."

About Habitat for Humanity of Bergen County

The goal of Habitat Bergen is to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness from the face of the earth by working in partnership with people in need. Using volunteer labor and donated funds and materials, Habitat Bergen builds or rehabilitates simple, decent houses and sells them to low-income families at cost, but with no interest added. Habitat Bergen is a people-to-people partnership, which joins all of us together regardless of race, nationality, religion, or socioeconomic status. That partnership begins with the homeowner families (partner families). Habitat Bergen is not a giveaway program, but a joint venture in which those who benefit from the housing ministry are involved in the work at various levels. They help with the construction of their own home, as well as the houses of their neighbors.
