Columbia Bank teams up with Habitat Bergen for upgrades

Fair Lawn-based Columbia Bank employees recently teamed up with Habitat for Humanity of Bergen County to help upgrade two homes in the Little Ferry area. The Team Columbia volunteers completed various construction and painting assignments, providing the "elbow grease" necessary to move the projects along. "We are extremely pleased to assist Habitat for Humanity of Bergen County with their charitable mission to create affordable housing," said Thomas Kemly, Columbia Bank's President and CEO. Since 1993, Columbia has sponsored grants totaling more than $1.2 million which provided funding for more than 150 habitat home rebuilding projects throughout New Jersey.
