Sprite gives back to Habitat Spring into Green

Sprite is partnering with Habitat for Humanity to promote the importance of consumers supporting their communities through building and refurbishing homes and active living spaces.

I met Al at a local yoga studio in Ramsey one Wednesday night. It was his first time ever taking a class and was excited to get started. I asked in passing what he did for a living and he said he owned a construction company. I mentioned that I worked at Habitat and if he ever wanted to volunteer we could use his expertise.

He started talking about how he had always wanted to give back to the community and volunteer but never found the time to put it into action.

Well into action he sprang and fast became invaluable to our building teams. While consistently volunteering on Saturday's he works with our Waldwick families often and they have embraced him as one of their own. With his gentle demeanor and warm smile he has warmed our Habitat hearts.

Thanks for being a part of our team!!
Sincerely,
Wendy Parker

Buzz from our Builders

"The experience was wonderful; I wanted my son to experience volunteering and to understand the need to give back to our community. We both got so much out of this experience. We got good on-the-job training and we worked as a team for the afternoon with the Temple Sinai volunteers. Thank you for the email leading us up to the event and for making us feel so welcome. I will most certainly return for more work with my son."

- Franci Steinberg

"My friend and I really enjoyed our Habitat volunteering experience. My arms are VERY achy today and I sure slept soundly last night, but it was worth it knowing our time was well spent in bringing a family a little closer to being able to move into their own home."
